Ultra-Lightweight and Low Visibility Ropes...

When weight really matters.... our Stallion Series has no rival. Designed specifically for military and law enforcement operations, Stallion features ultra-lightweight and low visibility rope construction that performs regardless of operational extremes. Teams never have to gamble safety by using smaller diameter ropes for weight reduction again. Innegra™ has an excellent strength to weight ratio and is hydrophobic – neither the physical nor mechanical properties of Stallion change when the rope is wet.

Pegasus Ropes® cores are all designed with Innegra™ S, a new and innovative advanced fiber that gives Pegasus Ropes® the same physical & mechanical properties – whether wet, dry or even exposed to chemicals.

The Innegra™ S breakthrough technology has an impressive strength-to-weight ratio, making it the lightest structural fiber available today.

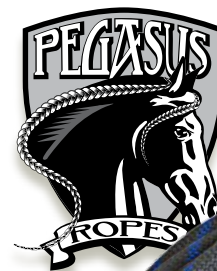

Innegra's unique composition also provides great thermal properties when used in hot or cold environments. For the first time you can be confident that the backbone of your rope's system, your core, will perform regardless of environmental challenges.
