

TACTICAL BODY TAPE Combat Ready

TREATMENT

Helps Maintain Readiness and Ability...

An enhanced solution that can increase performance, prevent musculoskeletal injury, and allow the user to return to duty if an injury does occur. Engineered for both clinics and austere environments, Tactical Body Tape can afford the user pain reduction without pills and swelling reduction without ice. This product helps the user maintain readiness and enables him to complete the mission.

Tactical Body Tape is designed to stimulate the nerve endings in the skin, which distracts the nervous system from getting pain signals from the muscles. This strategic distraction results in the reduction of the perception of pain. The construction of the product helps to support weak muscles and also lift the skin, which increases blood flow to the area.

Tactical Body Tape is made of high-grade cotton and a military-grade adhesive that enables the tape to stay on the body for multiple days through sweat, showering, submersion, and the harshest conditions.

Tactical body tape is currently used by SOF teams, infantry units, human performance clinics, military Medical Treatment Facilities, professional athletes, and triathletes. Each kit comes with Precut Tactical Body Tape strips, pictorial application instructions, and skin cleaner in a rugged resealable pouch.
