NORTH AMERICAN RESCUE HONORED TO SUPPORT UNITED THROUGH READING MILITARY PROGRAM

GREENVILLE, SC (September 7, 2011) – North American Rescue, LLC (NAR) was honored by Joanie Thresher, Director of the USO South Carolina, during Wednesday's grand opening of the USO Day Room and USO in a Box at Camp McCrady in Eastover, SC. NAR was privileged to sponsor the only United Through Reading Military Program in South Carolina while contributing additional electronics, time, manpower, and wall graphics to both the facility and the USO in a Box.

"This was an excellent opportunity to support our troops as they are preparing to deploy, offering a tangible demonstration of our company's support for the soldier here, in theatre, and upon their return," stated North American Rescue president Samuel D. Wyman, III. "The United Through Reading program allows our serving parents, even while oceans away, to tuck their child in at night with a bedtime story."

United Through Reading® is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit public benefit organization that allows deployed/deploying military personnel to be video recorded while reading an age appropriate book and interacting with the story. The USO will mail the book and video to the family at home. The family is then encouraged to take a picture of the child watching the video and send that picture to the service member.

Thousands of service members from all branches of the military pass through Camp McCrady for combat training prior to deployment. "(The USO)...significantly enhances the quality of life for our Soldiers and Sailors training here at Camp McCrady" said Col Mark G. Dykes, South Carolina Army National Guard (SCARNG) Garrison Commander. "It also improves the quality of life for family members back home, too; and that enables the service members to focus more clearly on their training when they know everything back at home is running smoothly."

North American Rescue® (NAR), based in Greer, South Carolina, has proudly enjoyed the honor of serving their country, community, and customers for over a decade. NAR is leading the way in decreasing preventable deaths by providing innovative casualty care solutions to our uniformed soldiers, first responders, health care professionals, and security forces both at home, and abroad in foreign combat zones.
