

NORTH AMERICAN RESCUE™

Education and Training

March 5, 2019

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact Information:

Lonnie Johnson, Director of MARCOM

(864) 675-9800

ljohnson@narescue.com

www.NARescue.com

NORTH AMERICAN RESCUE EDUCATION AND TRAINING ACQUIRES INNOVATIVE TACTICAL TRAINING SOLUTIONS

Las Vegas, NV (March 5, 2019) – North American Rescue Education and Training (NAR Training) is pleased to announce the acquisition of Innovative Tactical Training Solutions, Inc. and True Mission Training & Services, Inc. (collectively, ITTS) based out of Crestwood, KY. ITTS has over a decade of experience engineering and manufacturing a wide variety of hyper-realistic live constructive simulation products and services to all branches of military, state and local police and EMS, and private security.

Using extensive combat experience to drive innovative engineering, ITTS is well known for their industry-leading ruggedized simulators. ITTS has successfully leveraged their understanding of the rigorous demands of immersive training scenarios to incorporate the real-time feedback and versatility that enables their customers to achieve significant advancements in their training exercises. ITTS has a strong history of offering premium realistic tactical medical/rescue simulation tools that include their TOMManikin, Advanced Patient Diagnostic Simulators, K9 Canine Manikin, Aircraft/Vehicle Simulators, and Ballistics/Blast Simulators. Proprietary software enables simultaneous operation of multiple ITTS devices from a single wireless tablet.

ITTS' focus on providing experiential learning solutions to train warfighters and first responders in life saving techniques makes them an ideal addition to NAR Training's goal of providing superior products and memorable training experiences. NAR Training continues to enhance their training capability to fight the battle of saving lives domestically and abroad and is proud to welcome the thought leadership, innovative product design and creative skillsets of ITTS.

"North American Rescue Training remains committed to our mission of offering premium life-saving education and support to the warfighter and first responders," said Jim Mitchell, VP of Education and Training. "We are excited to bring the ITTS team onboard, and we are certain their leading-edge simulation technology and services are going to help trainers be optimally effective at transferring tactical medicine knowledge to true skills that will make a difference when lives hang in the balance."

About Innovative Tactical Training Solutions

ITTS was started in 2008 by a decorated combat search and rescue veteran. Their mission was to develop and produce realistic training tools which would provide the realism demanded by the military and emergency medical domains. In addition to the realism, they knew true training tools needed to be durable and field-ruggedized to complement training exercises. ITTS offers tactical training products and services to all branches of military, state and local police and EMS, and private security. For more information on ITTS and their equipment offerings visit www.tommanikin.com or call (866) 839-3455.

About North American Rescue Education and Training

NAR Training provides training and support requirements to its specialized customers from around the world with the best value for life-saving techniques. NAR Training is headquartered in Greer, SC and has training centers in both Nevada and South Carolina where they offer premier training opportunities to military, police, EMS, fire department personnel and civilians. To book a course call (888) 374-7808. For more information on NAR Training visit www.NARescue.com or call (864) 675-9800.

###